LIST OF DIOCESAN CLERGY FOR WHOM THE DIOCESE RECEIVED ALLEGATIONS OF SEXUAL MISCONDUCT WITH A MINOR

Letter to the Faithful from Most Reverend Nicholas DiMarzio, Bishop of Brooklyn:

Office of the Bishop
Diocese of Brooklyn
233 Hudson Park West
Brooklyn, New York 11201

February 11, 2019

Dear Sisters and Brothers in the Faith,

As Bishop of the Diocese of Brooklyn, one of my most important responsibilities has been, and continues to be, addressing the pain caused by the sexual abuse of minors by members of the clergy in Brooklyn and Queens. As we know, sexual abuse is a shameful and destructive problem that is found in all aspects of society, but it is especially egregious when it occurs within the Church and such abuse cannot be tolerated. We are deeply committed to providing safe environments for all of our faithful, especially for minors and vulnerable adults, as well as providing outreach and assistance to victims and survivors of abuse.

One of the first steps that I took in addressing this issue was the establishment of an independent, toll-free Reporting Line early in 2003 shortly after I arrived as Bishop of Brooklyn. The number is 1-888-634-6449. Anyone who has a claim of sexual abuse against a member of the clergy, diocesan employees, or parish volunteers is strongly encouraged to contact the authorities themselves or call the Reporting Line. Once a call is made to the Reporting Line, a report is generated, independently of the Diocese of Brooklyn, and is sent to the office of the corresponding District Attorney in either Brooklyn or Queens, as well as to my delegates, who are charged with addressing these matters. If, for whatever reason, the District Attorney's office chooses not to take action on the complaint, that complaint is referred to the Diocesan Review Board, when the matter refers to a member of the clergy. Should the Review Board, which is comprised of former law-enforcement officers, lawyers with experience in family law and child abuse, healthcare professionals, mental health professionals and a pastor, find that the claim is credible, the matter is then sent to the Vatican for the permanent removal of the cleric from public ministry. (The definition of credible means that Diocesan officials believe that the allegations may be true.)

In an effort to reach as many victims as possible, in 2017 the Diocese of Brooklyn initiated an Empowerment, Reconciliation and Compensation Program (ERCP), which was administered by Ms. Kenneth Fanning and Associates. This program consisted of two phases. The first phase involved all the victims who had been known to us prior to the announcement of the ERCP. The second phase involved those who made their allegations after the program's inception. As the program draws to its completion, an assessment of the data gathered from it indicated that prior to 2002 we were aware of approximately 34 percent of the cases. Between 2002 and the launching of the program in which we became aware of a large number of cases. Now, with the launching of the ERCP we became aware of the greatest amount of allegations. The chart below illustrates this important fact. Out of justice, we will continue to search for additional victims of abuse and we will be conducting a private compensation program for those who wish to participate.

Notice: The below list(s) of accused clergy is based upon reports and allegations by victims or the families of victims.

The listing of a clergy's name does not state or imply that clergy charged with allegations are guilty of a crime or liable for civil claims. The charges made against these clergy are just charges until judicially determined even if many others could find them credible.

Based upon the evidence available to the Diocese, the allegations against the persons set forth on the below lists were deemed to be credible unless otherwise noted. By "credible" the Diocesan officials believe that the allegations may be true. As to deceased priests and laicized priests generally no investigation would be implemented if the claim was first made after the priest left ministry. In addition, generally no investigation would be undertaken as to priests who admitted to the allegation. The judicial system, however, presumes that a person accused of or charged with a crime is innocent until proven guilty. In a civil action a person charged with wrong doing is likewise presumed not to be liable as charged unless a plaintiff proves otherwise. Admissions of guilt or liability are not typically a part of civil or private settlements.

Clergy is a broader term than priest and includes Bishops, priests and deacons. This list(s) includes all Diocesan clergy for whom allegations were reported to the Diocese or the IRCP program unless the allegations were unsubstantiated or investigations are still pending. Professional and reasonable efforts have been undertaken to ensure that an allegation has been received regarding each priest on this list while that person was a clergy in active ministry. For clergy in active ministry at the time of the allegation, the Diocese will undertake an investigation. While these investigations assist the Diocese in determining whether or not a clergy member should be in active ministry, it does not legally confirm the veracity of any actual allegation, and this list is not a representation of the legal case history, or part thereof, of an individual.

The below lists are accurate to the current knowledge of Diocesan authorities as of the date set forth on the list(s). The Diocese reserves the right to change, amend or update these lists if additional information is provided to it. In the event that any changes are made to the list(s), the revised, modified or updated list(s) will be posted on this website immediately. Please check the latest information posted here to become informed of any changes.

The Diocese is currently sponsoring an Independent Reconciliation and Compensation Program ("IRCP"). Kenneth Fienberg is the independent administrator of the IRCP and is not bound to, or by, any actions or determinations of the Diocese. This list is not intended to imply approval, determination, or knowledge by the IRCP Administrator of any information set forth herein.

PRIESTS AGAINST WHOM ALLEGATIONS HAVE BEEN MADE THAT ARE NOT LISTED ABOVE.

An allegation was made against Reverend Edward Offenheiser who is now deceased. The Diocese found the allegations to be unsubstantiated but the claimant was permitted to participate in the IRCP. In the IRCP the Administrator is independent and not bound to any determination(s) of the Diocese.

An allegation has been made against Rev. Msgr. Otto Garcia. As is the standard protocol of the Diocese, an investigation was completed. A professional investigator was engaged to undertake this investigation. The matter was then referred to the Diocesan Review Board for its determination whether or not the allegations were credible. The Review Board is composed of up to nine persons, a majority of whom are always laypersons who are not employees of the Diocese. These individuals all have an expertise which assists in evaluating cases. The Review Board unanimously found the allegations to be unsubstantiated.
